What to Expect:

At your first visit, you will be greeted by a Fertility Care Coordinator who will gather your paperwork, insurance card, and ID. They will review your insurance benefits with you, collect copay, and prepare the chart for your visit with the physician.

You may meet with our Physician Assistant or a Medical Resident who will review your medical history.

Depending on the purpose of your visit, the doctor may wish for you to have a transvaginal ultrasound with our ultrasound technician and lab work with our fertility nurse. You will be given the option to have genetic carrier screening as well. (Information about Carrier Screening is under the Patient Form tab on our website. The doctor or nurse will also discuss the benefits of this testing at your visit and can answer any questions you may have.)

Afterwards, you will meet with the physician who will discuss your history, fertility concerns, and results of any preliminary test performed (if applicable). The doctor will offer treatment options designed specifically for you.

Please allow 1 to 1 ½ hours for your appointment.

Prior to starting fertility treatment, it is important for you to contact your insurance company to verify your benefits. You will be financially responsible for any services not covered by insurance. Please verify your coverage for the following tests and procedures.

You should also question:

- 1) Are there any dollar limitations or attempt limitations to any of the infertility procedures?
- 2) What is the specialist copay?
- 3) Do I have a deductible, coinsurance, or out of pocket maximum? If so, how much and how much has been met?
- 4) Do I meet the eligibility criteria set by my plan for infertility benefits?
- 5) Do I have any capitation in regard to infertility center or laboratory used?

Whenever you speak to an insurance representative, be sure to document their name and reference number. If discrepancies in coverage should arise in the future, it is helpful to have a paper trail. If you have questions about your benefits, please contact a Main Line Fertility Care Coordinator.
